ALMA Wins EdTech Honor
Named 2020's Best Student Information Solution

PORTLAND, Ore. (May 11, 2020) – The EdTech Awards congratulates and acknowledges Alma SIS as 2020's best and brightest innovators, leaders, and trendsetters. EdTech Digest named Alma as this year's Best Student Information Solution for K-12 academics.

Finalists and winners for The EdTech Awards 2020 have been announced to a global audience of educators, technologists, students, parents, and policymakers determined to create a better future in the education and workforce sectors.

Celebrating its 10th anniversary, the US-based EdTech award program is the largest recognition program in the education technology industry, honoring the biggest brands and upcoming names in EdTech.

The EdTech Awards recognized Alma, for outstanding contributions in transforming education through technology, and providing enriching experiences for K-12 learners, teachers and staff.

"We feel a deep sense of pride in being recognized for our success in continuing to support students, teachers, staff and parents as they expand learning practices during this immediate global shift to Distance Learning," says Andrew Herman, CEO and Founder of Alma. "At Alma, we work tirelessly to build critical SIS tooling that's creating the best generation of educators – and we're absolutely thrilled to receive such an amazing distinction from EdTEch Digest. I couldn't be prouder of our team for bringing an innovative spirit to supporting students, teachers and parents – especially now."

The annual award program, featuring EdTech's most advanced brands, shines a spotlight on cool tools, inspiring leaders and innovative trendsetters across the K-12, Higher Education, and Skills and Workforce sectors.
